

Preparing for Challenges

The video "Importance of Integrity" teaches you that having integrity means knowing and doing the right thing—even if there's nobody there to see you.

Try This!

Play a game of "What Would You Do?" Each box tells a story. Read each story. Tell what you would do and why. Then answer the question in the last box.

You're at the store picking up milk for your family. The milk costs $2. You give the cashier a $5 bill. The cashier gives you your change, and you leave the store. You don't notice until you walk out the door, but the cashier has accidentally given you $4 back instead of $3.	You've borrowed a video camera from school for a class project. While you're walking home, you trip and drop the camera. You notice a crack on the camera, but you're not sure if it was there before. You check to make sure the camera still works. It does.	Your class is taking a math test. Your teacher leaves the room for a few minutes. The window on the door is covered. Nobody can see in. After the teacher leaves, a friend leans over and whispers, "What's your answer for number 4? I just want to be sure I'm right."
What would you do? Why?	What would you do? Why?	What would you do? Why?

Do you agree that it's important to do the right thing, even if nobody is watching?
