Social Entrepreneurs: Independent Learning Guide

The role models in the video “Social Entrepreneurs” discuss the positive impact that social entrepreneurs can have on people and communities.

Watch the video “Social Entrepreneurs” at least once. Then read each statement below. Think carefully about each question before you answer it.

1. Listeners heard from social entrepreneur role models who created coding camps, owned restaurants, and more!

What do you think makes a social entrepreneur different than other types of entrepreneurs? What part of being a social entrepreneur sounds the most interesting to you?

2. One role model said, "The best way to be an entrepreneur is to solve a problem that you understand."

Why do you think this statement is true? What might happen if an entrepreneur works to solve a problem they don't fully understand?

- 3. For social entrepreneurs like the role models in the video, making money is not normally a focus of their business.

Instead of profit or money, what do you think these role models focus on? Explain your answer.

- 4. Listeners learned about many different social entrepreneur role models. And each role model had a different business. Although these role models were all very different, they had some important things in common.

What did all the entrepreneurs in the video have in common? Did their businesses have anything in common?

- 5. All of the role models in this video have a passion to help, and they created their businesses with that in mind.

If you were to become a social entrepreneur, who or what would you focus on helping? Why?

6. Imagine that you are a social entrepreneur. Draw a picture of yourself helping to fix a social problem in the box below.

A large, empty, rounded rectangular box with a black border, designed for a child to draw their own illustration.
