

Using Creativity to Find Your Path

The video "Using Creativity to Find Your Path" shows role models describing their passions and the importance of using creativity to discover opportunities. As one role model tells listeners, "You have to live a life that is going to make you happy." Discovering the things you love can help set you on the path towards a fulfilling and enjoyable life.

Try This!

First, think about the things that you love to do. Then, use the box below to draw a picture of yourself in the future continuing to work with your passions. Finally, answer the question that follows.

Following Your Passions

1. What do you love to do? What are your passions? Think about hobbies, school, sports, and more! List as many things as you can think of!

---

---

---

2. Use the box below to draw a picture of yourself in the future following your passions.

3. Describe your picture. How are you following your passions? Do you have a career that incorporates your passions?

---

---

---

---

---