Why This Matters:

Women role models help girls build confidence and skills. When girls believe in their potential, they are more likely to take initiative, lead, and create a life of their choosing.

Career education equips girls with tools to achieve financial independence – breaking generational cycles of poverty and creating upward mobility for their communities.

What Girls Say:

“
I learned to not be afraid to go out there and really achieve your dream no matter the amount of time. You are your best investment.

- 11th Grader

What Educators Say:

“
We were blown away with the excitement about Career Girls Club. I had anticipated capping the group at 25 students from 4th & 5th grades. We had such a huge response that I recruited more advisors and we have almost 60 girls in our club. Both the students and parents are very enthusiastic about this opportunity.
